Best Wine Country Retreat Just Got Better

Kenwood, California October 12, 2007 Revitalized and upgraded, Kenwood Inn and Spa in Sonoma County's Valley of the Moon, presents a new website and many fresh amenities. Gardens, chaise lounges, spa pools, linens and website: all have benefited from the new ownership's commitment to first class hospitality. The new website, kenwoodinn.com, launched on October 9, 2007, offers online reservation service and up-to-date information on the inn, spa, restaurant, special events and meeting facilities.

All bed and bath linen has been replaced with luxurious cottons woven in Italy by Rivolta Carmignani, a 4th generation family business specializing in personalized linens. The two spa pools are re-surfaced, and new pool chaises, tables and umbrellas invite guests to relax outdoors. Landscaping – flowers, vegetables, fruit and decorative plants – is revitalized and groomed. A graceful Italian fountain is the centerpiece of the refurbished main courtyard, which now has wireless internet access. For guests' convenience, a computer is available in the lobby.

"We have done so much behind the scenes to make this place great," says Karl Bruno, General Manager. "Significant improvements have been made everywhere."
